Archaeological summer course in the Roman city of Iesso (14th edition)

Next July 6, 2020, will start the XIV edition of the "Roman City of Iesso" archaeology course, in the Archaeological Park of Guissona (Guissona, Lleida).

Not just for students!

From July 6 to 17, students, graduates or people interested in the world of archaeology will be able to excavate part of the Roman city of Iesso, delving into archaeological research and the Romanization process in the interior of Catalonia.

The course program includes field practices in the Archaeological Park of Iesso (Guissona, Lleida), lectures, guided visits to different sites, and hands-on activities (as cleaning and coding archaeological materials).

Get involved!

Fill out the pre-registration form that you will find on the website of the Guissona Museum and attach your academic record and your CV. You will also have to attach your CV and academic records. Pre-inscription will be opened until June, 9!

 Due to the risk situation caused by the coronavirus, the organization reserves the right to suspend the course if health authorities recommend it. In that case, registered people will be duly informed and enrolment payments will be returned. At the same time, the course program may be modified.

Contingut extret de la web de l'ICAC (www.icac.cat)

Picture of the 2019 edition of the Archaeological Course of Iesso. Photo: Museum of Guissona.

Contingut extret de la web de l'ICAC (www.icac.cat)