

International MEDIGENE Seminar

Contribution archaeological research in understanding human diseases: applications of odontological studies

5th March 2015, Sant Cugat, Spain

Program

- 10:15 Welcome
- 10:30 Florin Grigorescu and Sara Haydar (University of Montpellier, France). Population movement in Roman Empire as a genetic model of human migration, admixture and nutritional status
- 11: 00 Coffee-Break
- 11:30 Judit Ciurana and Josep M. Macias (Institut Català d'Arqueologia Clàssica, Spain). Tarraco: researching the roman city leaving out its citizens
- 12:00 Maite Salagaray (Universitat Internacional de Catalunya, Spain). Results of dental pathology of Tarraco in the framework of MEDIGENE Project
- 12:30 Dolors Ceperuelo (Universitat Internacional de Catalunya-IPHES, Spain). Analysis of radicular conducts in human fossils using CBCT (Cone Beam Computer Tomography)
- 14:00 Pause
- 16:00 Anna Bosch (IDIBAPS, Spain) Biobanks and the use of biological samples in research
- 16:30 Mercedes González (IDIBAPS, Spain) Introduction to molecular techniques of ancient samples and the first DNA collection of Romans
- 17:00 Discussion

Venue: The seminar will be held in the Campus of Universitat Internacional de Catalunya (UIC) just at 30 minutes from center Barcelona - Campus Sant Cugat, Carrer de Josep Trueta, Hospital General de Catalunya, 08135 Sant Cugat, Spain, Room A32

Registration. Registration is free but seats are limited; therefore we recommend to confirm your place by sending an E-mail to: activitats@icac.cat. Please indicate your full name, phone, E-mail address and the name of your institution.

Contact address: Institut Català d'Arqueologia Clàssica, Plaça d'en Rovellat, s/n, 43003 Tarragona, Tel. (+34) 977249133 - Fax (+34) 977224401, E-mail: activitats@icac.cat / www.icac.cat. Please visit our site www.medigene-fp7.eu